Questions for discussion

1. Discuss the hope that you have as a believer in the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. How does this help you as you consider the problems facing our lost world?
2. What advantages do we have over those disciples when it comes to understanding God's plan for the ages?
3. What does it mean to you that no one can take away your joy?
4. What does it mean to you that you will have trouble, but be courageous because Jesus has overcome the world?

Concluding statements

1. Jesus revealed to his disciples that in a little while they would no longer see him, but then in a little while they would see him.
2. They had much discussion among themselves regarding these statements along with the statement that “I am going to the Father.”
3. Jesus informed the disciples that they would weep while the world would rejoice, but their grief would turn to lasting joy that no one could take from them.
4. He came from his Father to the world and now he is going back to his Father from the world.
5. Jesus revealed that there would be a time when they would be scattered, but that the Father would not leave him alone.
6. Jesus told the disciples that he had revealed these things to them so that they could have peace.
7. They were to be courageous because he had conquered or overcome the world.
